THE BISHOP OF CLBA TO THE "FRIEND."

EDITOR BULLETIN :- I feel sorry that any disagreeable discussion should have taken place between the "Friend" and myself. I prefer to live in peace with everybody even with those who differ with me in point of religion which to me is a pearl of infinite price. The "Friend" has attacked me on a ground which I had expressly excluded from my discussions, viz. the intrinsic merit of our respective creeds. Besides, every fairminded reader must have been struck by the lack of courtesy in his expressions. The term "Interloper," according to the authority of Webster, is far from being complimentary, even in a limited application. He ought not to hold me responsible for any offensive expression that he may have found in other Catholic writers. I have already mentioned in my first reply an excuse for his styling my religion "The Catholic Corruptions of Christianity." He doubtless thought it was a good work to denounce a religion which appeared so very abominable in his eyes, (from what source has he got his notions?) but which is immeasurably dear to me. He is so earnest in his opinion, that he continues to abuse the Catholic religion, only in a somewhat modified tone. Abusive language is not a proof. When Christ was hanging on the cross, the victorious scribes and pharisees insulted Him, and still He was right.

Though the "Friend's" assertions are at times quite provoking, I shall resist the temptation of engaging him in controversy. I certainly be-lieve in religious controversy conducted in the right place and with calm reasoning; but the manner in which the "Friend" treats religious matters does not bid fair to interest the majority of the readers of the BULLETIN, nor would controversy, so conducted, be productive of any good. It would appear rather a profanation of what is most sacred to the consciences of men, and of course, would throw very little valuable light on the point of issue. Hence I think it best that we shall cease further boring the public with our dispute.

If the term new, applied to the various Protestant denominations, is offensive, I frankly declare that no offense was intended.

The "Friend" finds fault also with the Catholic priests for endeavoring to bring the Portuguese children to St. Louis' College, rather than have them at the new school on School street. Some of his remarks seemed to insinuate that those Catholic priests were accused of acting against the intention of the Board of Education. I gladly accept his word that he meant no such thing, and I am pleased that the "Friend" is not in the confidence of the Board. Without personal ill feeling, I give him my Aloha. HERMAN, Nov. 11, 1888. Bishop of Olba.

ANNUAL MEETING.

THE adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pacific Sugar Mill will be held on WEDNESDAY, the 14th instant, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the office of F. A. Schaefer & Co. H. RENJES,

LETTER FROM MAKAWAO.

EDITOR BULLETIN: -The friendly face of the BULLETIN is again before us. Always welcome. But we patient and longsuffering people in the outer districts are sorry to see so many murmurs and complaints from the sore-heads.

It seems to me it is near time this tempest in a tea pot subsided. It seems to us bard to understand why these mules (there goes that pen again), men, should kick so hard against an administration, which, to say the least of it, is so far superior to the last regime. Forbear, Oh! ye soreheads.

As well might one of your bro-ther donkeys try to kick down one of the Egyptian pyramids, as for you to try by your feeble writings to overthrow the present party of Reform. Come, shake hands, and let the political waters be still. Let us pull together for the common weal of this Paradise of the Pacific.

This Reform cherry is too small for two bites, so let us swallow it whole, believing it to be the sweetest morsel yet presented for our taste.

The country is good enough, and so is this honest Reform Government, if you Mar-Plots would only think so. Selah. The brig John D. Spreckels, has just arrived in Kahului, 13 days from 'Frisco. She brings 50 head of Merino and Southowns sheep. These animals were purchased in California for Hon. H. P. Baldwin, for his Haleakala ranch. Mr. B. will introduce new breeds of horses, cattle, and other stock pertaining to ranch business.

Now that Mr. Baldwin has assisted in reforming, the Government ranch, he proposes to pay some attention to his own affairs, and reform some matters in this direction.

The "Big Elephant" at Spreckelsville is grinding away, making about one hundred tons of sugar daily. To judge from the saccharine smile on Morrison's face, one would not think the California beet sugar industry troubled him much.

The next meeting of the Literary Club, will be held at Grove Ranch' at the residence of Honest Lowrie, on the 16th of the present month. Messes. Hall, Charley and Dickey have been appointed a committee of arrangements, and these parties being adepts at the business, we expect a roaring programme. The fact of the meeting being held at Mr. Lowrie's residence enhances the anticipated pleasure, as many sociables, literaries, and other entertainments, held at that place on former occasions, have all been declared par excellence.

Mr. Castle and his two young sons, are domiciled at the residence of Mr. H. B. Bailey. Here, under the kind care of Mr. & Mrs. B., noted for their generous hospitality, Mr. Castle is enjoying himself immensely. He has thrown aside all political cares, and has given himself up to simple enjoyment.

It is funny to hear this grave and dignified President of the greatest Legislature that ever assembled in your city, tell of his adventures of two days' stay at Olinda, on Haleakala, coming out of the thorny blackberry bushes at Olinda, etc.

Mr. Castle looks like a man who had said something his wife did not exactly relish. Then to hear him tell about his cooking, I imagine he thinks because he helped to cook Gibson's goose, that he is perfect in his culinary knowledge.

I have suggested to him the idea of writing a cook book. Cooking Made Easy, By Ah C. Price 50 cents only. A few copies to be found at Hewett's. No Chinese need apply. By the way the Minister of the Interior is expected to-day.

If these two Reform giants meet here and settle their little differ-encies on the Chinese question, they will probably make Haleakala howl. Come on, Lorrin, plenty of room, and we won't charge you any licence for the circus.

Grove Ranch, Hamakuapoko, and Paia, will soon commence grinding. Lots of smoke to-day. Don't know whether Mother Pele is on another spree, or whether it is Major Cornwell of Waikapu.

Wailuku and Waihee will soon be to the front again, making sugar. Lively times for Maui. The liveliest island of the group.

At an election held at Makawao yesterday, Cleveland was elected. "Coming events cast their shadows before," and "Nip" is still in the lead.

The Foreign Church at Sunny Side is fast approaching completion. It is a splendid structure, and is built with all the modern ideas of convenience. The people are proud of this fine church, and are loud in their expressions of gratitude to Mr. Baldwin, who has mainly been instrumental in its building. Splendid weather-everybody full of joy, I mean. With same good wishes to the BULLETIN, I remain. Yours truly, An Jim. Kula, Maui, Nov. 7, 1888.

WAILUKU NOTES.

Several welcome showers of rain have changed the aspect of the country, and gladdened the hearts of the planters.

On the night of the 8th at a few minutes before 6 o'clock quite a prolonged shock of earthquake was felt here. The vibrations were from east to west and lasted about four seconds. No damage is reported to have been done, although the shock was severe enough to stop several clocks on different parts of the Islands. The Wailuku Racing Association have been untiring in their endeavors to have a fine programme of races on the 16th, and judging from the entries already made their efforts will be successful.

The result of the Presidential election in Wailuku was a victory for the democrats by a vote of 23 to

In pursuance of a call, quite a large gathering of the representative men of Walluku was had at the Court House last night, to arrange for the reception and entertainment of His Majesty here next week. Major W. H. Cornwell presided and Mr. Norrie acted as secretary: four committees were appointed to whom were entrusted the arrangement of the reception.

Last night a fire occurred in one of the fields of cane belonging to the Waihee Sugar Co., but was put out before much damage was done. The cause of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to have originated v some one smoking in the field. Wailuku, Nov. 10, 1888. N.
